Neighbors,

As you may know, the City of Los Angeles is currently working on a pedestrian safety project on Selma Avenue. The project, called "Safe Routes to Schools," aims to make the corridor between Highland Avenue and Cahuenga Blva more walkable and safe for pedestrians, particularly children and families walking to school. You may have already seen some of the safety improvements on the street including new curb ramps, sidewalk extensions, etc.

The project will be finishing up this fall with work at the intersection of Selma and Cahuenga, where sidewalks will be extended to allow for greater pedestrian access and walkability. The proposed work involves a request for a 2-week closure of Selma/Cahuenga on the west side of the intersection, and a few weeks worth of impact on the east side.

Our office is well aware that this proposed construction schedule and activity would likely affect your regular operations, and I have requested that the Bureau of Engineering and the contractor, Comet Electric, come to Hollywood to give the neighborhood a full briefing on what is being proposed. This will be an important time to ask questions and express any concerns or feedback. Here are the details for our meeting on this topic:
